Moto GP stage set for return of 250GP Championship action

The UK's top 250 riders and machinery from the 2010 250GP ACU National Championship & NG Cup are set to share the stage with the World's most iconic names such as Valentino Rossi, Casey Stoner, Jorge Lorenzo and Dani Pedrosa at the Air Asia British Motorcycle Grand Prix on 18th 19th 20th June 2010. The largest motorcycle racing event in the UK will be the first to experience the brand new 3.6 mile Silverstone Arena Grand Prix circuit.

This event will prove to be the highlight of the 2010 Fraser's of Gloucester, ACU and Dunlop backed series, which kicked off with a full grid at Brands Hatch in March, and saw Andy Mechem and ex Irish Champion Chris McAloran take a win apiece. Toby Markham, Andy Sawford, Ant Hodson, Alex Kenchington, 2008 Champion Ben Johnson and reigning Champion Jason Davis will all want to top the podium in front of the World's biggest show. Championship regulars will be joined by several European challengers who will be keen to take up the rare opportunity of sharing such an occasion with the World's best.
